PHOENIX.

Lost Child Found.

Word came from Higley Saturday evening that the lost child, Antonio Garcia, had been found near the Hall brothers ranch, many miles from his home. Antonio disappeared on Monday evening, having wandered from the home of his parents on the Menimnet ranch east of Higley. Last seen was when the little one appeared at the Miller ranch about five o'clock. Miller, without making an investigation and claiming that he supposed the child's parents were near at hand, notified it to move on. The little one turned and disappeared in the mesquite and chapparal and that was the last time it was seen until Saturday morning about ten o'clock, although a score of people had scoured the surrounding country almost continuously. All that time the boy had neither food or drink and when finally located was almost all in.

Reeves Gets Globe House.

By a deal consummated a day or two ago Manager A. H. Reeves, of the Elks theater in this city, will within a week or two become the manager of the Elks theater in Globe, one of the leading playhouses of the capital of Gila county. It was for the purpose of perfecting the details of the transaction that Reeves made a hurried trip to Globe returning on Friday evening in time to be present at the presentation of "The Typhoon" in his local theater.

According to word given out by Mr. Reeves yesterday he expects to not only make the Elks theater in Globe the most popular house in that city, but also to put Globe on the map in the way of vaudeville attractions, the best moving pictures obtainable and frequently to book some of the best road shows it is possible to send up into the Miami district.

Want Home For Orphans

The club women of Arizona will renew their efforts to secure the establishment of a state health department and as citizens urge that this measure be adopted, if certain recommendations to be proposed at the coming convention of the State Federation of Women's club to be held in Douglas this week are adopted.

If the convention passes favorably on a resolution offered that women be given positions of responsibility in all public institutions where women and children are confined, the matter will also be put before the legislature. Another measure that will probably reach the lawmakers will be that just provision be made for orphans of the state by the organization of an orphan's home. One of the most ardent advocates for the unprovided children of the state is Dr. Agnes McKee Wallace, of Prescott, president of the Arizona Federation of Women's clubs, who arrived yesterday to pass a few days with relatives before attending the convention.

Murderer Well Guarded.

An unusual precaution has been taken in the case of William Faltin. Though judgment has not been entered, at the direction of Judge Phillips and County Attorney Wyman he has been placed under a constant guard. There are two shifts of twelve hours each. This there is no telling what Faltin's next move will be. He was not worrying yesterday about the verdict of the jury the night before condemning him to death. Speaking of it he laughed and said, "Hanging's quick business; all over in fifteen minutes."

Big Addition Planned.

That an $85,000 addition to the Fleming block, at the northwest corner of First avenue and Washington street is about to be erected and that the plans for the proposed structure which will make of the building the largest office structure in Phoenix, was the announcement made by A. G. Hubbard, of Pasadena, owner of the Fleming block upon the occasion of his visit to Phoenix last week. The only thing, so it is stated, which is delaying the immediate beginning of construction is that a tenant is being sought for the first floor of the new structure, who will agree to execute a long-time lease. In the event such a tenant is secured, the entire lower floor of the addition will be constructed to suit his needs.

DOUGLAS.

Mysterious Woman Caught.

Mrs. H. D. Clumppner, Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

This is the name of the mysterious woman dressed in lavender, and she is a roomer in the Queen hotel in Douglas.

At least, this is the woman who yesterday was captured by Mrs. Jack De Lane and who returned to Mrs. De Lane the property which the former lost.

The extent of her pilferings, she herself does not know, or at least makes that claim. The list she gave which was the best her drug clouded brain could furnish was:

"Some jewelry, a skirt, a stickpin, a watch, one dollar in cash, fifty cents, several pieces of silk, and twenty-five dollars in cash."

The latter sum she claimed to have taken from Mrs. J. H. Baker, and she said that she had returned $15 of the money, confessing to Mrs. Baker.

"My name is Mrs. W. M. Clumppner. I was born in Birmingham, Ala., I was married and moved to Wisconsin. I lived in Milwaukee, Oshkosh and several other towns. A little more than a year and a half ago, I was taken down with an attack of 'lung fever.' While I was in the hospital the doctors gave me lots of morphine. I couldn't quit it. Later, when I started to get better, I was given codiene to take the place of the morphine. It is not nearly so injurious. I got so that I had to have the drug. I wouldn't take anything so long as I had work or could get the money to buy it with."

Stock Smuggler Arrested.

Juan Rocha, a Mexican rancher who lives up the valley, was placed under arrest Saturday morning by United States Marshal Hopkins, on charges preferred by the United States customs officials, for wilfully smuggling Mexican stock into the United States in violation of the law, and harboring the same.

It was rumored some time ago that Rocha had horses and mules on his ranch on which the duty had not been paid, and that he was planning to bring in other stock from Mexico. Three customs officials have been keeping watch on him to see if he would report the stock that he had in his possession, but he failed to do so.

Much Interest in Case.

Much interest is manifested locally over the appeal of the case of the State of Arizona vs. Wood Allen, for the unlawful killing of quail, which has just been filed in Phoenix.

The game law in question was one of the bills referred to the people at the last election and which were incorporated in the statutes of the state by popular will.

The case will be docketed by the supreme court and taken up at an early date. It will decide the status of all the measures referred to the people at the last election.

The contention of the defendant in the appeal is that Chapter 82 of the special session of the state legislature is in suspension, and that the submission of the law at the last election was void. It further alleges that it was not such a general election as permitted the submission of the referendum measure, and further because of the lack of time between the filing of the referendum petitions and the election to give notices which are required by the constitution of the state.

TOMBSTONE.

Will Pay All Debts.

County Treasurer Charles W. Hicks has issued a call for all outstanding general county fund warrants and will pay off in the neighborhood of about $100,000 of paper issued by Cochise county several years ago. This leaves the banner county of the state on practically a cash basis, a distinction that no other county enjoys in Arizona, which is further proof that this section of the southwest is enjoying much prosperity.

TUCSON.

Refuses to Pay License.

"Our firm will not pay the quarterly license now due," said E. G. Capo of the Capo-Hohsen Jewelry Company Friday, "until we have been advised by our attorney, John B. Wright."

Capo is the originator of a petition now being circulated among the merchants of the city protesting to the city council against the license system of taxation.

"Whether or not any merchants will refuse to pay the licenses due last year pending action by the associated merchants I do not know. That will be for each to decide for himself. This firm was paid up to January 1."

Licenses are payable in advance by the quarter.

Tourist Hotel Planned.

A tourist hotel or an apartment house is planned for a site at Alameda and Main streets, having a frontage of 214 feet which has been purchased by Congressman G. W.

Fairchild of New York city, according to Alfred S. Donau. It is understood that Adolphus Busch, brewer, is interested with Fairchild in the building of a magnificent tourist hotel here.

"The property is too valuable to lie idle long," said Donau. Congressman Fairchild is now in Washington, but is expected back in Tucson within a week.

The site has a frontage of 214 feet on Alameda street and is 175 feet deep. It adjoins the Paseo Redondo and is within a few minutes' walk of the heart of the city.

The purchase was made of the West Side Improvement company through Alfred S. Donau company. The consideration was $8,000. Fairchild is said to be seeking adjoining property.

Forming Taxpayers' League.

W. A. Julian, whose platform as Republican candidate for mayor in the recent city election, was based on an economical and business-like administration of the city's affairs, is organizing a tax-payers' league, whose purpose is to watch the expenditure of public money. He has discussed the league with many of the largest taxpayers in the city, particularly merchants, and has their support.

The league will be in the incubation stage for the next month or six weeks. Permanent organization will then be effected and steps taken to employ a secretary and other officials to do the detail work necessary. The expenses of the league are divided in the usual practice, between the members, on the basis of the taxes they pay.

"The purpose of the league will be to force publicity in regard to the use being made of the citizens' money," said Mr. Julian. "We are paying large sums into the city treasury and we want to learn what is being done with the money. It is not practicable for a single citizen to dig into the public records to learn of expenditures. Why shouldn't the water department, for instance, give an account of all that is taken in and all that goes out?"

"You will say that they keep books. Very true, but what meaning have their accounts for the average citizen. You will say that the councilmen are supposed to represent and take care of the interests of the people, but accounts are passed on by the finance committee and payment authorized by the council as a matter of course. The councilmen cannot on account of lack of time, investigate these accounts individually."

"A league would get the figures and show the public through the newspapers what they mean."

Cochise and Gila counties have taxpayers' leagues. They scrutinize county as well as city taxes. In the case of Tucson attention will be confined to city taxes.

CASA GRANDE.

A White City.

Casa Grande is the direct center of a host of home-seekers arriving in large numbers from all parts of the United States. People have arrived in Casa Grande in such great numbers that securing a house for living quarters is entirely out of the question. Consequently Casa Grande can truly boast of a "White City," owing to the fact that many of the new-comers who have erected their tent-houses, or built homes on their claims, have erected tents on the outskirts of Casa Grande. The white city is growing every day. The railroad yards are constantly full of chartered cars containing personal effects, household goods and carloads of horses and mules.

MOUNTAIN LION IS A MONSTER IN SIZE

(From Sunday's Daily.)

George E. Ainsworth, Jr., of Walnut Creek, holds the championship of the country up-to-date in killing the biggest mountain lion ever known, which measured ten feet two inches from tip to tip, and weighed over 245 pounds, according to letters received yesterday.

The animal was found devouring a calf, but when the first bullet wounded him, began retreating in the deep snow of the Juniper range, and later was killed without any trouble. Mr. Ainsworth removed the intestines and brought the big fellow home without defacing the head or the hide. It will be placed on exhibition this week in the city, and no bounty will be asked from the county, as the pelt is an unusually beautiful one. The age of the lion is said to have been at least ten years and it was a male. It entered the settled country in want of food, on account of the deep snows on the mountain adjacent where cattle do not range and where food is not to be had.

FREEDOM FIGHT IS LOST BY LOPEZ

Habeas Corpus is Denied Apache Man Accused Of Murder

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The Apache county application for a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Ignacio Lopez was denied yesterday by Judge F. O. Smith, of the Superior Court of this county, and the prisoner was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

This proceeding was attended with an effort of friends to secure the freedom of the accused, his bail of $14,000 not being procurable. Lopez is alleged to have shot and killed at St. Johns, last year a wealthy and prominent merchant, named Samuel Saffles, of Springerville. The latter was coming out of the room and the bullet entered his head, death following instantly.

The evidence introduced at the hearing on Saturday revealed a very unusual state of affairs in connection with the killing, in that Lopez was sent by his brother-in-law Sheriff Peralta of Apache county to hunt for the man who killed Mr. Saffles. When Lopez returned he had a wound on his arm, which he stated was received from a shot fired by the man who killed Saffles, in the fight that occurred to make the desired arrest. The crime was finally investigated, and voluminous evidence that was linked around the accused, is said to have been incontrovertible in the right man being arrested, certain circumstantial evidence being forthcoming that the defense could not break down. Lopez is to be tried next month at St. Johns, and was taken to that place yesterday.

TRAINLOAD OF ORE TO BE SHIPPED EVERY DAY

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

S. R. Trengove, who is in the city from the Blue Bell mine, near Mayer, reports that deep development goes ahead satisfactorily and production is maintained as formerly, four carloads of ore being shipped daily to Swansea.

With the new concentrator in operation at Humboldt by the Consolidated, the intention is to introduce a daily train service to supply both points, which this mine is capable of yielding from the vast amount of ore exposed and blocked out. The increased shipments are expected to be inaugurated in a short time, the concentrator at Humboldt starting up on Monday on a test run of the machinery. It has a capacity of 250 tons per day, from which can be judged the tonnage available at the Blue Bell, and the custom ores from other properties that will be handled in addition to the smelting grade that goes direct to the furnace.

At no time in the history of the Blue Bell have underground conditions been so favorable as at present.

WOMAN IS FIRST TO TRY NEW CURE

BERLIN, Jan. 25.—The first American to submit to the new tuberculosis cure discovered by Dr. Frederick Franz Friedmann was treated here when Mrs. Walter Powell of Boston was inoculated with the Friedmann bacilli. The woman was accompanied here by her husband, and he announced his intention to notify the public through the press as to whether the treatment proves efficacious.

Dr. Friedmann is smarting under the criticism voiced by European papers because of his refusal to give any of the bacilli away. He says inoculation of a patient requires the most delicate and technical work and that it requires instructions which he has not time now to give to the world. He offered, however, to permit the American government to subject his cure to a thorough investigation.

LANDMARK SOLD.

(From Friday's Daily.)

The pioneer road station known as the Four Mile House, on the road to Lynx Creek, was sold yesterday by Mrs. Carrie M. Fox to the Southwestern Adjustment Company of Mesa, Arizona, for the sum of $2,500, according to a deed filed for record.
